

CLAIM IT WAS FRAUD

Michigan Trust Company Asks for an Injunction

IN THE CARLTON ESTATE CASE

Charges of Fraud Made Against Charles P. and Elizabeth Carlton.

The Michigan Trust company as guardian for Phillip P. Carlton, a mentally incompetent person, filed a long bill yesterday asking for an injunction restraining Charles and Elizabeth Carlton from disposing of property belonging to Philip Carlton, but of which they stand possessed on account of fraud and deceit practiced on Mr. Carlton.

It is claimed that Mr. Carlton has been in a feeble condition mentally for two years, owing to family trouble he has lived alone on his farm in Cannon township until his grandson William went to care for him. The farm is worth $8,000 and the personal property is worth $3,000. It is claimed that Charles P. and Elizabeth Carlton took advantage of his feeble mind and induced Philip Carlton to deed to them for $1 all his property. He lived with them a short time, but was so abused that the old man could not stand it. Finally Elizabeth Carlton made complaint against the old gentleman and had him arrested on a charge of slander, and kept him in jail for a week or more.

Since that time Charles and Elizabeth have held possession of the farm, claiming it as their own, and selling off the crops and converting the proceeds to their own use.

Asked for a New Trial.

The Street Railway company, by its attorneys, made a motion yesterday for a new trial, in the case brought by Charles Blakeslee for injuries received in a collision on Canal street one year ago. A jury gave Mr. Blakesee $4,500 damages last month, which the company claims is excessive. It was argued yesterday that $4,500 was more money than Mr. Blakesee could earn in ten years, and as his injury was a simple fracture of a leg the damages were excessive. The matter was submitted.
